GRAVE SITES IN SOUTHEAST PITT COUNTY

CAPTAIN JOHN SPEIR Cemetery ...on the north side of the Tar River, opposite Greenwood Cemetery, near the mouth of Parker’s Creek, a short distance from the riverbank. (WBK note: I have not seen this grave site personally but have been told by several hunters that they saw it 20-25 years ago while hunting in the area.)

CAPT. JOHN SPEIR  b. September 25, 1693  d. April 20, 1764

The information below was found in an early 1900s Daily Reflector article.

“Oldest Tomb in the County:  Senator A. L. Blow has for some time been gathering data for a history of Pitt County.  In his recent research he found what is no doubt the oldest tomb in the county.  It is on a grave about two miles below Greenville, on the north side of the river near the mouth of Parker’s Creek and only a short distance from the riverbank.  Sunk in the middle of the slab is a square of dark slate stone which contains the following inscription:

   Death at a distance we but slightly fear
   He brings his terror as he draws more near
   From stately palaces we must be gone
   To lie benighted in the tomb alone
   Wise then’s the man who labors to secure
   His passage safe and his reception sure
   HERE LIES THE BODY OF Capt. John Speir
   Born in Virginia 25th Sept. 1693
   Departed this life 20th April 1764”

ALEXANDER EVANS Cemetery ...west of Evans Street, between First and Second Streets in Greenville.

GORHAM Cemetery...located at Strawberry Hill site of the Gorham Plantation, on the north side of NC 33 East, about 0.5 mile from the road, about five miles east of Greenville. The entrance is nearly in front of Brame’s Nursery. It appears there was a vault here, but the area has been pushed up and the cemetery destroyed.

RANC...was all we found on one stone. It could have been the stone of Frances Allen Jerusha Suggs, who was John Churchill Gorham’s wife. Another possibility could be Frances Henrietta Gorham. The letters RANC would be for Frances or Francis.

WBK note: The Gorhams of North Carolina by Sarah Gorham Webb indicates the following were buried at Strawberry Hill:

Col. JAMES GORHAM  b. _____, _____  d. _____, _____  Baptized August 4, 1745
His will was dated December 24, 1804.

WHITE-BOWEN Cemetery...located on the south side of the Tar River, 200 yards east of Grimesland Bridge Road (SR 1565). Dr. Nenno bought this property from the Grimes family, and he received permission to bury his wife in the cemetery. Supposedly, a slave cemetery is located nearby. It has been reported that the Susanna White buried here is Blackbeard's sister and that someone dug into the grave looking for treasure. However, because Blackbeard died about 1722 and Susanna was born about 1755, I don't feel she is his sister, but she might be a niece. His sister, Susie White, supposedly lived in this area.

In memory of Mrs. SUSANNA WHITE, Departed this life Jany 18, 1803 Aged 48
   My flesh shall slumber in the ground...Til the last trumpet joyful sound...The burst the bounds with sweet surprise...And in my saviours image rise
SALLY, the wife of Dr. TENNENT BOWEN, who departed this life Dec the 21, 1800
   In whom were concentered all the excellences which constitute the affectionate wife, fond mother and indulgent mistress.

BENJAMIN F. HAZELTON Cemetery...west side of Boss McLawhorn Road (SR 1916), 0.5 mile south of its intersection with (SR 1915), north of the Craven-Pitt County line. Turn beside a house and travel about 700 feet, then turn left on a path into the woods about 200 feet. On the right are two cedar stumps. This is the location of the cemetery, according to Joseph F. Price. There were large wooden markers that burned during a fire. This land was purchased by Dr. John Hazelton, father of Benjamin, from Joel Patrick in 1818. Possibly, Dr. Hazelton and others are buried here. Surveyed by Stan Little.

WILLIAM WORTHINGTON Cemetery ...south side of Hines Drive (SR 1122), 0.5 mile west of Ayden Country Club Road (SR 1722). St. Amand calls it Ancient Cannon Graveyard. Lill Jackson calls it Worthington-Cannon cemetery. It is a rather large site but only about one quarter of it has stones. Early Cannons might have been buried here, but there are no stones. Two Cannon women who married Worthingtons are buried here. A number of recent handmade wooden markers indicate probable known burial sites.

Confederate Monument .....Inscription:
   East Side: The ashes of 14 unknown soldiers dying in and around Greenville now repose here.
West Side: Only a martyr who fought and who fell. Unknown and unmarked in the strife. But still as he lies in his lonely cell, Angel and Seraph the legend shall tell—Such a death is eternal life.

INTERESTING PITT COUNTY GRAVE SITES

by Bill Kittrell

The history of some of Pitt County’s outstanding citizens has been preserved on their grave markers. Much of this information would not be available today had it not been for the printed records of Jeanette Cox St. Amand and Lill Jackson, for many sites have been destroyed since their surveys.

Many prominent citizens of Greenville and Pitt County are buried in Cherry Hill Cemetery. One of those is Governor Thomas J. Jarvis (b. January 18, 1836; d. June 17, 1915). Others include Robert Lee Humber (b. May 30, 1898; d. November 10, 1970), a world-known humanitarian; W. H. Ragsdale (b. March 30, 1855; d. March 27, 1914), a supporter of the establishment of what is today East Carolina University; David Jordan Whichard (b. 1867; d. 1922), publisher of the Eastern Reflector which later became The Daily Reflector; Robert Randolph Cotten, a planter (b. 1839; d. 1928), and his wife Sallie Southall Cotten (b. 1846; d. 1929), a leader in the education of women. Also located in this site are some African-American graves.

One of the oldest grave sites in the county was written about by Sen. A. L. Blow in the early 1900s. This was the grave of John Speir, “born in Virginia 25th Sept 1693, departed this life 20th April 1764.” This was near the mouth of Parker’s Creek and known as Red Banks. Another one of historical interest is that of Robert Williams, located on Tyson’s Creek at the southern edge of Falkland. The inscription reads, “In memory of Robert Williams a soldier of the Revolution and a Physician of high standing who was born August 25, 1758 and died October 12, 1840 aged 82 years 1 month and 17 days. Few men have been extensively known or universally beloved.”

Col. John Hardee (d. December 4, 1784, age 77), his wife Susanna Hardee (d. August 8, 1785, age 84 yrs 1 mo), and their son Isaac Hardee (d. January 9, 1760, age 26) are buried in the family site on East 10th Street in Greenville. The burial site of John Simpson (born in Boston, March 8, 1728; d. March 1, 1798) is on his plantation called Chatham, just north of Simpson. Further east is the site of Taft’s Landing where Arnold Taft (native of Uxbridge, Mass.; d. September 19, 1844, age 60 yrs 6 mos 11 days) and his family are interred. Another site on this eastern route toward Grimesland is Strawberry Hill, the Gorham plantation, the cemetery of which no longer exists. Next is Avon, the Grimes plantation where Demsie Grimes, a native of Virginia, is buried. Grimesland Plantation is the burial site for Major General Bryan Grimes (b. November 2, 1828; d. August 14, 1880) of Civil War fame.
Susanna White (d. January 18, 1803, age 48) is buried 100 yards east of Grimesland Bridge. Some have thought she was the sister of Edward Teach (Blackbeard). Her grave has been dug into several times by people looking for treasure, but she was born after Teach was killed. At the same site is Sally Bowen whose inscription reads, “wife of Dr. Tennent Bowen, who departed this life Dec the 21 1800 in whom were centered all the excellences which constitute the affectionate wife, fond mother and indulgent mistress.”

On the north side of the Tar River near Pactolus is Yankee Hall where many of the early settlers in that area are buried. They are the Speirs, Tooles, Stewarts, and Telfairs. Sam Ralston's inscription reads, “a native of Ireland who was exiled from his country for being associated with the United Irishmen in the fatal rebellion of 1798. He was born in the county of Antrim on October 1, 1778, and died in this place February 11, 1829, aged 50 years 4 months 10 days. His foibles are lost in the contemplation that he was an honest man.” Other families whose sites are located in this area are the Perkinses and Jordans.

In the Bethel area are found many of the Blount family as well as Carsons, Mannings, Whitehursts, Andrews, and Brileys.

The Rives Cemetery contains the remains of Peter Rives (b. May 11, 1813; d. January 13, 1868), his wife Mary Ann Long (b. 1821; d. June 5, 1875), and other family members. Just west of the Rives’ location was Bensborough, home of the Atkinson family. Those buried here were moved to a site in Greene County. Because of development and highway construction, many families have been moved to other locations. Records of some of these relocations are found in the Register of Deeds office.

The Farmville cemeteries have many of the town’s outstanding citizens, such as Benjamin May (b. 1737; d. 1808), John Joyner (b. October 7, 1779; d. March 20, 1853, age 74), and Alfred Moye (b. January 19, 1797; d. February 26, 1862).

Burials at St. John’s Episcopal Church Cemetery in southeast Pitt include the Brights, Wootens, Coxes, and Pughs. Other churches in the county that have cemeteries are Black Jack, Gum Swamp, Reedy Branch, Mount Pleasant, Bethany, Burney’s Chapel, Falkland Presbyterian, St. John’s Missionary, Anderson Chapel, Zion Chapel, Holy Temple, Holly Hill, White Oak, First Born, Sweet Hope, and Brown’s Chapel, to name a few.

Brown Hill has many of the leaders of the African-American community, such as Charles M. Eppes (b. December 25, 1858; d. July 31, 1942), a leading educator; Rev. Joshua A. Nimmo (b. October 26, 1886; d. October 15, 1961); and Rev. Joseph May (b. December 12, 1870; d. April 23, 1921). Other families interred here are the Barnhills, Norcotts, Norfleets, Bests, Brewingtons, and Paytons.

THE CEMETERIES OF DOWNTOWN GREENVILLE

by Roger Kammerer

In the course of recorded history, one of few disregarded subjects is the graveyards and cemeteries. Sadly, the graves of our honored dead have been neglected, forgotten, and destroyed over the years. The destruction of cemeteries, which now brings a felony charge, is not a new phenomenon; the State has had a law against harming cemeteries as far back as 1841.

Probably the oldest cemetery in Greenville is the Evans Family Cemetery located on the west side of Evans Street between First and Second Streets. This cemetery was owned by Richard Evans who divided his land and started Martinsborough (later Greenville) back in 1771. The oldest graves have disappeared through neglect, but the existing graves date from 1812 to 1856. The cemetery, made up of Evans family relations, contains the names of Selby, Olds, Gorham, and Williams, all prominent families in Greenville's past.

Certainly the next oldest cemetery was once located behind what is now the Self-Help/Proctor Hotel Building and ran between Evans and Cotanche Streets all the way to Fourth Street. In the parking lot directly behind the Self-Help/Proctor Hotel Building was an enclosed cemetery known in 1810 as the Smith Cemetery. By one account, it contained only one grave, and it was certainly connected to the then-prominent David Smith family of Greenville. By act of the N.C. General Assembly in 1828, the Smith Cemetery was broken up into three sections, the two unused portions being sold off. The other part of the public cemetery in the central portion of Greenville, which ran to Fourth Street, is mentioned several times in the local newspaper in the 1880s. In 1885 only two tombstones still existed and one other grave was covered with a large slab. The newspaper complained how the cemetery was covered in weeds and was a home to drunks and wandering animals. In 1887, when new stores were being built on Evans Street, the City fathers ordered the cemetery moved, but only a cursory effort was made. The two grave markers and the grave with the slab were taken to Cherry Hill Cemetery. One of the gravestones bore the inscription “Here lies the body of Josiah Wright, who died the 6th of February 1792. Native of Massachusetts.” In 1896, while new buildings were again being built after a fire, workmen uncovered more graves and bones. It was said that three skulls were unearthed and that lots of boys in town had teeth as souvenirs. The workmen just covered the graves over again and built upon them.

Another old grave from the 1830s is mentioned in the “Recollections of T. C. Davis” in 1901. He said that a “Mr. Brooks” was buried in Major Benjamin M. Selby’s garden and the grave was marked by a sandstone slab. It is unclear which Mr.
Brooks it was since the Brooks family had been prominent in Greenville since it began.

In April 1858, Marshal Dickinson sold a little over five acres of land near Greenville to Henry S. Clark, who in turn sold it to the Commissioners of Greenville who wanted the land for a public cemetery. The land was located on the road from Greenville to Charles Greene’s Mill (Greene Mill Run), which would put it at or near what is Tenth Street today. This cemetery may be the one that once sat where Krispy Kreme and the Swiss Chalet now stand. This was once the site of the graves of Civil War soldiers who were eventually moved to Cherry Hill Cemetery about 1873.

In 1827, the Baptists of Greenville got together and constituted a church. They began “squatting” on a lot at the corner of Fourth and Greene Streets and built a small frame structure for a church. They bought the lot in 1832 and it was about 1831 that a widow named Mrs. Salter died and by special request was buried near the church in the center of the lot. The adjacent lot owners, fearing their wells would be ruined, convinced them not to bury anyone else. The next burial did not occur until 1850. In 1945, when the Baptist Church was considering expanding, they had their graveyard removed to Greenwood Cemetery.

In 1833 the Methodists bought a lot off Pitt Street for a church and graveyard. In 1838 the Episcopalians bought a lot next to the Methodist Church and had their own graveyard. In 1873 Tilman R. Cherry donated a large piece of land adjacent to the Methodist and Episcopal churches to be used as a public cemetery. The city honored Cherry for his donation by naming it the “Cherry Hill Cemetery.”

The first reference to Cherry Hill Cemetery in the City Minute Books appeared on August 4, 1898, stating: “The committee for the white cemetery shall have control and supervision of that part of Cherry Hill Cemetery set apart for the burial of colored persons.” In 1898 the Methodist Church cemetery and other property were brought into the Cherry Hill Cemetery, and in October 1898 lots were beginning to be sold and the cemetery was mapped out according to burial plots. In November 1898 the City minutes named Richard Williams, Jr., as superintendent of the white section of Cherry Hill and Boston Napoleon Boyd as superintendent of the black section. They also reduced the price for sections in the black portion of Cherry Hill from $50 to $20 and quarter-sections from $12 to $5. In May 1900 the City Alderman laid the law down on vandals in Cherry Hill with the following ordinance: “No person shall enter the cemetery with a horse or vehicle, except for the purpose of carrying materials to make graves, build monuments, or other material for ornamental purposes, and then only with the written permission of the Cemetery Committee or Mayor. Any person violating this ordinance shall be fined five dollars for each offense, and every entrance of a vehicle or horse shall constitute a separate offense.”
In 1930 the Episcopal Church Cemetery was also brought into the Cherry Hill Cemetery. In 1935 Mrs. Hattie Cotten Skinner, widow of Charles Skinner, had a brick wall erected at her own expense around the Episcopal section of Cherry Hill Cemetery. In July 1941 the City placed a bronze marker on the wall to honor Mrs. Skinner for her donation.

It was reported in May 1902, while workmen were digging down the hill for the extension of West Fifth Street (at the railroad tracks), that several skeletons were found. It was reported then that that part of town was used to bury black paupers.

In March 1903 when Fifth Street was being extended east of Reade Street to connect with the new road through the Harrington property, workmen discovered bones from an old cemetery. Research has found that there was a graveyard there known as the old “Parker’s Cemetery.” It was located near that part of town known as “Buzzard’s Roost,” on Reade Street, extending from Fourth Street to south of Fifth Street. It was said to be the final resting place of paupers and criminals who had been executed. In 1914 the City chose the old graveyard site for the new Greenville High School. The City fathers ordered the graveyard cleared, but very little was apparently done. When the foundations were being built for the school in 1915, several superstitious workmen were scared away, never to return, when they stepped into rotting pine boxes. When the high school burned in 1927 and was being rebuilt, some more bones were uncovered in the excavations. It was said that a small group of boys even started a fight using the bones as weapons.

In 1916 the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church congregation built a large brick church building on the hill at the intersection of First and Greene Streets. Because of the Shore Drive Redevelopment, the church was forced to sell its property to the Greenville Redevelopment Commission, and the congregation moved to another church building in June 1968. The church cemetery, which consisted of 23 known graves and 19 unmarked graves, was moved about 1969 to Brown Hill Cemetery.

In late 1924 the Greenville Aldermen purchased 101 acres of the James Brown farm for $10,000. The property was located on East Fifth Street, and the City proposed to use 30 acres of the land for a new cemetery to be called “Greenwood Cemetery.” It is interesting to note that the property between the cemetery and the Tar River became the city dump. The last set of graves I have uncovered in my research were once located behind the R. D. Harrington house on Fourth Street, near where the road to University Towers now sits. There were supposedly three known graves there and one of the tombstones said “Sarah Applewhite, age 72, Rest in Peace.”
APPENDIX C

DATING TOMBSTONES

One way to help find the era in which your ancestor was buried is to examine the material from which the tombstone is made.

- If your ancestor has a stone made of slate or common fieldstone (except wood used by pioneers), chances are the stone dates from 1796 to 1830.
- If the stone is flat-topped hard marble, dates are about 1830 to 1849.
- If the “mystery” stone is round or pointed soft marble with cursive inscriptions, look for a date of 1845 to 1868.
- Masonic four-sided stones began in 1850 and are still in use today.
- Pylons, columns, and all exotic-style monuments are usually dated between 1860 and 1900.
- Zinc monuments date from 1870 to 1900.
- Granite, now common, came into use about 1900.
- If the writing is too faded to read, use a 75-watt black light bulb in any lamp that casts light directly on the written message. The writing will miraculously appear.

Gravestone Art:
A Language Of Symbols

Ever wonder why the carvings on so many old gravestones feature the same images time after time? It's because they're part of a symbolic language that was used by gravestone artists to comment on those interred below.

Here are a few of the many motifs from early American gravestones and the commonly held interpretations of their symbolic meanings, as provided by the North Carolina Division of Archives and History:

- Angel: Flying; Rebirth; Trumpeting; Call to the Resurrection; Weeping; Grief
- Arch: Victory of life; or victory in death
- Arrow: Mortality
- Bird: Eternal life
- In flight: Flight of the soul
- Breasts: (also gourds, pomegranates): The church, the ministry, the nourishment of the soul
- Candle Flame: Life
- Columns, Doors: Heavenly entrance
- Crown: Glory of life after death
- Dove: Purity, devotion
- Figs, Pineapples, Other Fruits: Prosperity, eternal life
- Flower: Frailty of life
- Severed blossom: Mortality
- Garland: Victory
- Hand Pointing: Heavenly reward
- Heart: Love, mortality, love of God, abode of the soul
- Hourglass: Time's inevitable passing
- Lamb: Innocence
- Pall: (cloth covering coffin)
- Pick, Spade: Mortality
- Rooster: Awakening.
- The Resurrection
- Scythe: Death, the divine harvest
- Shell: The Resurrection and life everlasting; Life's pilgrimage
- Skull, Crossbones, Skeleton: Mortality
- Sun Setting: Death
- Sun shining and sun rising: renewed life
- Thistle: Of Scottish descent
- Tree: Life
- Severed branch: Mortality
- Tree sprouting: Life everlasting
- Vine: The sacraments
- Weeping Willow Tree: Nature's lament
- Winged Face: Effigy of the soul of the deceased; the soul in flight
- Winged Skull: Flight of the soul from mortal man
- Wreath: Victory.
- Wreath worn by a skull: Victory of death over life
- Wheat Sheaves: The divine harvest

APPENDIX E

CALCULATING BIRTH DATES

(Remember this number: 8870)

The above number is essential to remember to calculate birth dates of someone when you only have the date of death and age at the time of death. How do you figure the birth date?

Suppose the person died on May 6, 1889, at the age of 71 years, 7 months, and 9 days.

1. Write the year, month, day of death as follows → .......................... 18890506
2. Subtract the age at death → ............................................................... 710709
3. This gives the figure → .................................................................. 18179797
4. Now subtract 8870 → ........................................................................ 8870
5. The result is → .............................................................................. 18170927

The birth date is: Year = 1817 — Month = 09 (September) — Day = 27

or

September 27, 1817
APPENDIX F

CLEANING AND RUBBING TOMBSTONES

Note: Remember—reverence! No running or jumping on stones or in their vicinity. Always supervise children and consider not bringing children under age 12 into the cemetery while you work.

Cleaning Recommendations:

- Do not attempt to clean stones without first receiving proper directions.
- Do not clean stones often—once every several years or longer; even the most carefully cleaned stone loses stone particles with each cleaning.
- Limit the cleaning of a stone to dusting with a soft-bristled brush.
- Do not attempt to remove lichens or moss that may be growing on stones.
- Never use a wire brush or any metal instrument on gravestones.
- Avoid acidic cleaners on marble or limestone.
- Avoid sandblasting and high-pressure spraying of gravestones.
- Do not attempt to clean any stone that is unstable.
- Avoid treating stones with “protective” coatings that are impermeable to water vapor.
- Tools for cleaning stones: plastic pails, goggles, rubber gloves, Tampico (natural bristle) or plastic scrub brushes, toothbrushes, smooth wooden sticks such as ice-cream sticks or tongue depressors, Q-tips, spray bottles, and water.

Rubbing Recommendations:

- The best stones for rubbing are slate stones in good condition with low-relief or incised carvings. These produce the best images on paper and are less easily damaged inadvertently.
- Check each stone for stability; do not work with any stone that appears fragile or unsound.
- Use a heavy-grade paper or pellon so ink does not bleed through onto the stone.
- Cover the image amply with paper to avoid over-rubbing onto the stone.
- Do not make any marks on the stone.
- Attach paper with masking tape to the back of the stone. Be sure to remove all bits of tape from the stone before leaving.
- Avoid rubbing deeply carved stones. Such stones can be easily damaged and generally do not make good rubbings anyway.
- Avoid rubbing marble or other stones with coarse-grained textures, as coloring agents may bleed through the paper onto the stones.
- Check the work site before leaving to be sure no tape, paper, or trash has been left behind.
One of the biggest frustrations in genealogy is being unable to locate the burial site of an ancestor. Although we may have an idea of where this ancestor is buried, we have no proof. Grave dowsing cannot give us the name of the person buried in any unmarked grave, but it can identify the locations of unmarked graves within a cemetery or lot. You may find that the dowsing rods respond differently for you, which is the reason it is extremely important that you practice and develop your own technique.

Dowsing has been used for years for finding water, so why not unmarked graves? My first observation came from watching a gentleman in Oakdale Cemetery in Washington, North Carolina, as he searched for an empty plot in a family lot. He explained to me what he was doing and how he made the rods. He had made them out of copper wire strong enough not to bend as you held the rods outward, parallel to the ground.

Making dowsing rods: I start with two separate copper wire rods 24 inches in length. I then make 90-degree bends of about 4 inches for the handles. The length of the handles can vary in length depending on the size of your hand. Other dowsing rods can be made of metal coat hangers. Cut them at the neck just before the point where they join and straighten each hanger. Once they are straight, make 90-degree bends for handles of about 4 inches or a length that is comfortable for you.

Grave dowsing technique: Hold the rods lightly in your hands with elbows at your waist and forearms parallel to the ground. The rods should be held straight out, also parallel to the ground and parallel to each other. Do not place your thumbs over the bend of the handle; this will restrict movement. Do not grip too tightly, only enough to keep the rods parallel. Approach the suspected gravesite, walking very slowly. If a body is present, the rods will cross in front of you when you are over the grave. Once you step off the grave, they will uncross.

This may not work for everyone. Practice is very important. You can experiment by first trying this process on existing graves.

ACHIEVEMENT IS MAN'S MARK OF GREATNESS.
ROBERT LEE HUMBER (1963)
INSCRIPTIONS ON FLAT TABLET

THE WORLD HAS NEED OF A MORAL EQUIVALENT TO WAR. (1927)

GOD IS MY FATHER, MAN IS MY BROTHER
AND THE WORLD IS MY COUNTRY. (1928)

ART IS THE MIRROR OF LIFE. (1929)

ALL HUMAN BEINGS ARE CITIZENS OF THIS WORLD COMMUNITY, WHICH REQUIRES LAWS AND NOT TREATIES FOR ITS GOVERNMENT. (1940)

IDEALS ARE THE ARSENAL OF PROGRESS. (1969)

THE WORLD TODAY OUR AGE SEEKS PEACE BUT IT BREEDS WAR. (WAR IS EVERYWHERE). IT HOLDS HUMAN LIFE TO BE SACRED BUT IT SLAUGHTERS
MEN BY THE MILLIONS. IT PROMOTES GENEROUSLY SOCIAL WELL BEING BUT IT MULTIPLIES UNSCRUPULOUSLY VICTIMS OF DISTRESS AND AGONY.
IT ENHANCES THE ASSETS OF THE LIVING BUT IT DESTROYS THE HERITAGE OF THE PAST. IT PROCLAIMS JUSTICE BUT IT TOLERATES
INIQUITIES. IT PAYS HOMAGE TO ETERNAL TRUTHS BUT IT DESECRATES THEIR INTEGRITY WITH IMPUNITY. HEREIN LIES OUR DILEMMA: THE DISCREPANCY BETWEEN OUR PROFESSION AND OUR PRACTICE. THE INCONSISTENCY BETWEEN OUR FAITH AND OUR WORKS. AN AUTHORITY OF PREEMINENT GREATNESS HAS SAID THAT FAITH WITHOUT WORKS IS DEAD. IT IS THIS CHASM BETWEEN HUMAN DESIRE AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE WHICH NOW COMMANDS PRIORITY IN OUR ACTIONS. IT
TRANSCENDS EVERY OTHER CONSIDERATION IN OUR TIME. (1970)

FROM THE AUTHOR

This survey of Pitt County cemeteries had its beginning in 1982 as a result of my personal family genealogy research, which eventually expanded into gathering information on many local families. Approximately 820 cemeteries were surveyed between the years 2002 and 2007, and recordings have been made from the headstones of every family, church, and municipal cemetery that could be identified. Through the generosity of the Pitt County Historical Society, this research is now available to assist not only local residents but also others with Pitt County roots.

Book Two includes cemeteries in Southeast Pitt County (excluding Greenwood Cemetery, Greenville).
